TH VOICED PARAGRAPH

In a small village, there lived a young family. The father's name was Mr. Brown, and he had two children, Tim and Lily. Tim was the older brother, and Lily was his little sister. Mr. and Mrs. Brown loved their children very much and always took good care of them.

One sunny morning, Mr. Brown called out "Children," he said, "Today we are going to visit your aunt who lives in another town. We need to pack our bags and get ready."

Tim and Lily were excited, so they quickly ran to their rooms to get their clothing. Tim gathered his favourite t-shirt and jeans, while Lily picked out a pretty dress. They also took their bathing suits with them because they knew they might go swimming.

Their father reminded them to take their towels. "Remember to bathe every day," he said. "It's important to keep ourselves clean."

When they were ready Mr. Brown called a taxi, and soon they were on their way to the train station.

On the train, Tim and Lily sat opposite each other and looked out the window, watching the beautiful sights passing by. They saw green fields, tall mountains, and a big river flowing through the countryside. "Look at those cows!" shouted Lily, pointing to a field full of grazing cows. "Yes, Lily, those are cows," Tim replied. "They give us the milk that we drink every day."

As the train moved further, they reached a tunnel. The children felt scared and didn't breathe for a moment. "It's dark in here, but there is no need to worry," their father said to them. After a little while, the train came out of the tunnel, and they started to feel excited again.

Finally, they reached the town where their father's brother and wife lived. Their aunt and uncle were waiting for them at the train station. "Welcome, welcome!" their aunt exclaimed, giving them a big hug.

The rest of the day Tim and Lily played with their cousins, and they had a great time together in the sunny weather. Their father and uncle enjoyed themselves too. They used a lathe to shave some wood and made a leather chair together.

As the day came to an end, Tim and Lily were rather tired so they said goodnight and went to bed early. The next morning, they thanked their aunt and uncle for their hospitality as they hugged their cousins and said their goodbyes.

On the way back home, Tim said to their father "We are so lucky to have such a loving family." When they arrived home, their mother was waiting for them, smiling after the soothing spa she enjoyed while they were away.

"Welcome back" she said, giving them a warm hug. "I missed you." Tim and Lily hugged their mother tightly, and then they all sat down and talked about the special time they spent together.

TH VOICELESS PARAGRAPH

Emma loved going to the theatre. Every Thursday, she would sit in the front row with a big smile on her face, ready to watch the actors perform. She thought the theatre was a magical place where anything could happen.

One day, as Emma was walking to the theatre, she heard a loud noise, making her think there might be a storm coming. But she wasn't worried; she loved the sound of thunder. It made her feel excited and thrilled.

As Emma entered the theatre, she saw a sign that said, "Thank you for coming!" She took a seat and watched as the actors began to sing and dance. The theme of the show was a marathon, and all the actors were healthy athletes running with all their strength.

During the intermission, Emma felt a bit thirsty. She walked to the refreshment booth and asked for a glass of water. The kind lady behind the counter smiled and handed her a cup. Emma drank it quickly and wiped her mouth with her thumb.

After the show, Emma went back home. She realized she had lost something along the way. Her favourite cloth was missing. She thought hard, trying to remember where she might have left it. Suddenly, she remembered that she had used the cloth to tie something together earlier that day.

TH VOICELESS PARAGRAPH

Emma then ran to the bathtub. There, beneath her bathrobe, she found her missing cloth. She was relieved and happy to have found it.

Later that evening, Emma complained to her mum about a toothache. Her mum gave her a new toothbrush and asked her always to clean her teeth with toothpaste twice a day to keep them healthy. Emma did as her mother said and brushed her teeth thoroughly in the bathroom.

Later that night as Emma lay in bed, she thought about all the exciting things she had experienced that day. She realized that life is like a giant python, twisting and turning, sometimes throwing surprises our way. But if we stay truthful and thankful, we can face any challenge that comes our way.

With a satisfied smile, Emma closed her eyes, her breath softened and she drifted off into a peaceful sleep.
